

And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there will be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain; for the former things are passed away.

"I REST"

"Reach down," I cried,
"Dear Jesus, and take
my trembling hand.

The path I tread is lonely
and I do not understand.

The landmarks on the road ahead – they're hidden from my view."

Then Jesus whispered
softly, "Fear not,
I'll carry you."

So now, though darkness deepens, I am divinely blessed.

For come what may, within
His arms, I rest...I sweetly rest.

In Appreciation

We, the family of the late Alex Mallory, would like to express our sincere thanks for each and every one of you. The many kind acts that you have shown us through this difficult time have truly been a blessing.

We take solace in 2 Corinthians 5:1

"For we know that when this earthly tent we live in is taken down—when we die and leave these bodies—we will have a home in heaven, an eternal body made for us by God Himself and not by human hands."

– the Family

A Legacy™

A Heritage: Character Qualities, Memoirs...

For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

— Romans 8:38-39

MR. Alex “Snoop” Mallory

Alex Roderick Mallory was born in Orlando, Florida on November 16, 1972 to Carrie Johnson and the late Don Mallory. Alex or “Snoop,” as he was affectionately named by his grandmother “Lil’ Mama,” was the third of six siblings. He attended St. John Missionary Baptist Church and accepted Christ at a very early age.

His early education began at Catalina Elementary School and continued onto Memorial Junior High School, and then as a graduate of Jones High School Class of 1991.

All who knew Alex knew that he was always very active and a great sportsman. He enjoyed all sports, whether in the form of watching a televised game, or on his video gaming. Alex basketball prowess was proven as he was named All Conference for the State of Florida while playing for the AAU division. As a member of the division he was able to play basketball with NBA players Chris Webber, Greg Kiel, and Chris Jackson before they were stars. Scouts all over the country recognized Alex’s talents, but Alex was adamant about becoming a Seminole at Florida State University.

Throughout his high school years, Alex displayed a natural physical ability and academic success; there was no question that FSU would’ve been his college choice. On November 28, 1990, in a high school basketball game against St. Cloud High School, Alex collided with another player during a preseason game. As a result, he suffered a spinal cord injury which he battled for nearly 25 years.

Alex often lived by 3 D’s – Discipline, Dedication, and Determination. His athletic career may have ended but not his drive to continue to display his many talents. Alex attended Career Training Institute for Barbering, where he was known to have top-notch precision barbering skills. Eventually, Alex put up his clippers for the computer. He was a self-taught Graphic Designer who was passionate about creating event designs and pictures to video montages.

Alex was kind and humble, but mostly a loving man. His smile brightened your day and his courageous spirit touched your heart.

Alex was preceded in death by his brother, Darryl Johnson, and his father, Wille Don Mallory.

Alex will be deeply missed and his legacy is cherished by his: wife – Taneka Mallory; mother – Carrie Ramnarayan; siblings – Alvin Gilreath, Congredge (Nikki) Mallory, Edgar (April) Johnson, DonaMari Johnson, Devonda Mallory, Sharon Hanns, Devoran Ellis, Don Mallory, and Ricky Mallory; mother-in-law – Patrica Williams; sisters-in-law – Tara Boatman and LaTonya (Corey) Fallings; and a host of aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces, nephews, and friends.
